C-FCWM Meet With Local Leaders

Community leaders, The National Council of Churches and representatives from the Florida Migrant Ministry met here Wednesday to discuss church involvement in migrant labor problems and unionization of farm workers.

The meeting was closed and not even a program of speakers was attainable in advance. George H. Wedgworth, host to the meeting, president of the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative and also President of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association, refused comment of the meeting saying that the meeting was closed at the request of the National Council of Churches group attending.

The morning session was planned as a time for community leaders to speak. The program, available at the meeting listed.

Churches and the Florida Christian Migrant Ministry to work cooperatively with Florida grower groups, he said.

Wedgworth outlined these church groups associations with the unionizing effort in Belle Glade and other sections of the nation and in legislation. "If in fact, final goals and aims are anti-grower, there can be no higher form of deceit than to hide behind fancy and ambiguous words to attempt to maintain grower support as long as possible," he said.

The program, as outlined, Wedgworth said, is not only anti-grower but working against the best interest of the grower.

On behalf of my church and the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association, I, Wedgworth said, "along with others from my church met with Rev. Isaac Igarashi on Feb. 12, 1965 for the purpose of discussing agricultural labor... the results of this meeting was that we were assured of a conference with the staff of NCC as soon as it could be arranged. The handling of correspondence, lack of it, and the fact that over two years have passed is inexcusable."

Rebuttals and discussion were to be carried out at the afternoon meeting.

Hurricane Season Opened June 1; Area Disaster Chairmen Appointed

June 1 is the opening of the 1967 so-called hurricane "season" and the Palm Beach County Chapter of the American Red Cross is ready to go into action to help protect lives if one of the windy ladies approaches our county shoreline.

All agreed that this area has vast potential for recreational development. Plans out-lined whereby local interest, by sponsorship can work with the US Corps of Engineers, through the Flood Control District in build additional sites at a 50-50 cost share arrangement. In addition, old sites, which work has already been done by the Corps, work can be completed with 100% federal money to finish and enlarge facilities if local sponsorship is provided.

The County's disaster committee chairman is again Colonel D. M. King, who served in this capacity last year.

Colonel King announces the disaster chairmen for the Belle Glade area is W. A. Wooten; Pahokee, Canal Point area, Duncan Padgett; and for the South Bay area, William Masone.

Last year, the first hurricane was spawned as early as late May, and approached the Florida shoreline June 2, before turning away and finally entering the Gulf. That was hurricane Alma. The "peak" of the hurricane season, history shows, is late August through October. However, history also records many hurricanes earlier, and Colonel King urges all persons to become knowledgeable and prepared for defense against them.

Several of the Palm Beach County's new functional and largely windowless schools are being added to this year's list of Red Cross shelters since they are ideal for this purpose.

Dr. Ed Elsey, chairman of the volunteer board, says "we are now within $50,000 of our goal. June 1 was the deadline, but a brief time extension was granted."

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

He is a free man whom the truth make free, and all are slaves beside.—Couper.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

In tracing the roots of the Middle East crisis, informants can hardly fail to observe that U. N. Secretary General of the United Nations, precipitated one of the worst developments in the situation.

This was Mr. U. N. Secretary General's affirmative response to Egypt's demand for withdrawal of the U. N. peace-keeping force from positions along the Israeli border. It was not necessary for U. N. to take this action, for the peace-keeping force had been created by the U. N. General Assembly and not by the Secretary General himself. With this sudden, irresponsible action, U. N. opened the door to direct action to Col. Nasser of Egypt. For example, with the almost overnight withdrawal of the U. N. troops, Nasser was able to send troops to blockade the narrow straits which control Israel's access to the Red Sea and its markets in Africa and Asia. Automatically, war tension was increased.

Western peoples should not overlook U. N. Secretary General's behavior. In the past the bureaucratic machinery of the U. N. has gone all out to assist the U. N.'s authority in international disputes, but he made no such assertion of authority against the Egyptians, who are sponsored by the Soviet Union. He didn't even attempt to delay an action that was bound to promote the communist goal of stirring trouble in the oil-rich Middle East.

U. N. Secretary General has used his office to try to bend the United States to his will, virtually adopting Hanoi's position on the aerial bombing and suggesting that the U. S. by its air raids against the Red regime, was on the verge of starting World War III.

The bias U. N. has in this and other situations, gives a abundant evidence of where his sympathies lie. Nasser's Egypt of course, is one of the revolutionary states of the world. It is very close to the communist bloc countries. Nasser desires to oust the Western countries from their oil concessions in the Middle East, a goal which U. N. has undoubtedly shared.

The bias U. N. has shown toward the Egyptians is all the more graphically illustrated by the failure of his office — and of the Afro-Asian bloc in the U. N. — to pay any attention to other threats to the peace in the Middle East. Since the early 1960s, Egypt has had 50,000 soldiers occupying the "little Red Sea" territory of Yemen. But U. N. and the U. N. have not condemned Egypt aggressive thrust.

For many months, Egyptian agents, infiltrators and saboteurs have been conducting a terrorist war against the vital British naval-air base of Aden at the southern end of the Red Sea and against the South Arabian Federation. But the U. N. persists in seeing no evil.

A three-man U. N. team visited Aden this spring, but refused to even consult with South Arabian Federation officials — the lawful authorities in the area. U. N. had no word of reproach for the U. N. emissaries. He was too busy trying to pressure the United States into backing down before the forces of aggression in Southeast Asia. In another situation, involving Syria

U THANT BIAS

Secretary General was equally blind to aggression by a pro-communist country.

U. N. Thant's position is understandable, in one sense, no doubt his sympathies are in line with the policies of the U. N. majority of countries in the United Nations organization. The more than 100 countries in the U. N., after all, are largely nations from the communist world or the so-called Third World of backward, neutralist nations. Thus the majority of states in the U. N. fall into one of two classes: (1) communist or openly pro-communist nations, or (2) nations which envy America and want to penalize the U. S. for its influence. Many of the new nations of Africa, which are so numerous in the U. N., belong to the second group.

The United Nations talks peace, but the U. N.'s definition of peace invariably is one which benefits the enemies of freedom. "Peace" for U. N. means Western withdrawal at every point and accommodation to the demands of the revolutionary states and movements. In short, U. N. Thant's career as Secretary General clearly illustrates his anti-Western outlook — an outlook which he clearly shares with the majority of states in the U. N. organization.

Plan Ahead Says FHP For Vacation Fun

"Plan Ahead" was the watchword issued today by the Florida Highway Patrol to all vacation bound motorists to plan ahead, to make a little planning goes a head start to a safe and happy trip.

Colonel H. N. Kirkman, Director of the Department of Public Safety, appealed to motorists. "Before you go, have your car safety checked, also carefully list items that you should take along and be sure to plan your route well."

Kirkman points out that successful safaris prepare ahead for possible road emergencies. He urged motorists to make a check list of needed items such as: first aid kit, maps, extra set of keys, fire extinguisher, wheel jack, lug wrench and a good flashlight.

Also make sure your insurance and driver license haven't expired and carry them and your vehicle registration with you at all times," said Kirkman.

A final note from the Patrol reminds motorists not to overload the car.

Florida Education -- Where Do We Stand?

Sanctions have been imposed against Florida by the teachers represented by the Florida Education Association. So what? It is doubtful that anyone knows the answer to that question. The FEA talks loud and loud about the power of sanctions but the effect on Florida can not be reliably predicted. Time will tell.

Another question, even harder to answer, is how do you obtain quality education do we have it? Are the demands of Florida Education? And last but not least, is education the place to search for a teacher?

These questions are so difficult to answer, perhaps, because there are so many answers, so many places to look for answers, and all of the answers are colored by the particular prejudice and self interest of the person or body which provides them.

Facts are facts, or are they? Do you ever hear about the statistic who drowned while sailing across the Gulf? The average depth was three feet?

And so, what can the individual do about forming an intelligent opinion about the current crisis in Florida's education?

As an attempt to start getting a few answers we will present the advantages and disadvantages of two widely discussed aspects of the education field, the ten month work year and the teacher job security. In addition a summary is presented of the evaluation of Palm Beach County teachers done by experts in the education field.

10 MONTHS MAKE YEAR What does the teaching profession have to offer?

A ten month work year is possible to earn $1,000 in the other two months of the year but periodically, the teacher must return to school for additional credits. This could cut down summer earning power. However, teachers may take advantage of night courses, some offered in Belle Glade, or where ever the teacher may teach. These courses may satisfy certificate renewal requirements. There is also another possibility. The National Defense Education Act (NDEA) offers institutes throughout the United States each summer. If teachers are accepted to one of these institutes they are paid $75 a week plus $15 a week for all dependents.

4. The salary schedule is generally favorable.

5. Teacher turnover is not excessive.

6. A liberal program of fringe benefits is provided.

7. A broad diversity of geographical background exists among staff members.

8. The pupil-teacher ratio, generally speaking, is reasonable. BUT, these facts must be faced.

9. The instructional staff is relatively inexperienced.

10. The orientation program for new teachers is limited.

11. The program of staff evaluation is meaningless.

12. Excessive clerical work and non-instructional assignments contribute to low morale.

13. An imbalance between men and women teachers exists, particularly in the elementary schools.

14. The recruitment program is weak.

15. N. orientation or in-service training program is provided for substitute teachers.

The Peninsula Motor Club, AAA, has issued a plan to motorists to be especially alert for youngsters riding bicycles and to bike riders to learn the safety rules and follow them.

including husband or wife, provided the husband does not make more than applicant. For a standard six week course this means $450 for a teacher with no dependents and increases by $90 with each dependent. This income may be tax exempt and in addition provides for the teacher wishing to use it, credits towards a masters degree which will earn a raise for the teacher.

Competition for these institutes is stiff but entrance requirements do not always seem the best teachers, but sometimes seek out the weak teachers, hoping to improve their effectiveness. It should be noted that unless a teacher is fortunate enough to live in a university town and attend an institute there, the cost of living away from home for six weeks is not cheap. However, if these institutes allow the teacher to break even while advancing himself professionally. This could well be compared to the training, industry sometimes makes available to employees.

JOB SECURITY

This facet of the teaching profession is not to be taken lightly. A graduate of the teaching college today, no matter how poor, can get a job. In this area higher salaries are a must! Because teachers are needed, teachers will be hired. If the financial enticement is enough selectively in hiring is possible. Where salary is not high, it is not only hard to get a teacher, but almost impossible to get good teachers. Obviously Florida is being outranked in it offered starting salary. In Palm Beach County the starting salary is $5,000. Other Florida counties have lower starting salaries, and some have higher.

This county is lucky in that we attract many young teachers because of our "fun" location. This location also has the advantage of the presence of married women who are teachers and do not seek out a place to teach but teach in a community where their husbands are. Despite these two sources of teachers, a county must put itself on the open market and say, "come and teach here because Certainly a higher starting salary would be beneficial in attracting the type of teachers we want."

New Pastor For S. B.-L. H. Methodist

REV. WILLIAM J. OIS

Rev. William J. Ois has been appointed as pastor of the South Bay and Lake Harbor Methodist Churches.

Rev. and Mrs. Ois arrived in Lake Harbor after attending the Florida Annual Conference held in Lakeland last week. They are at home at the Lake Harbor parsonage. Rev. Ois will preach Sunday, June 11 at both the South Bay and Lake Harbor Churches.

A native of Northern New York, Rev. Ois was born in Belmont on April 5, 1910 and resided in that area most of his life with the exception of a two year pastorate in the state of Vermont in the Troy New York Conference of the Methodist Church.

He entered the ministry in October 1950, studying at Houghton College, attending special sessions for pastors preparing for Elders Orders in 1952, 1953 and 1954, and was ordained to Elders Orders in the Wesleyan Methodist Church in 1955. He completed the four year course for approved supply pastors in Boston University in 1960.

Rev. Ois held three pastorates in the Troy, N. Y. Conference of the Methodist Church and three in the Northern N. Y. Conference of the Methodist Church before transferring to the Florida Conference of the Methodist Church, effective as of June 1 at the Lake Harbor and South Bay Parish.

Mrs. Ois is a native of Centerville, N. Y., a graduate of Oneonta, New York State Teachers College, and resided at Cherry Valley New York at the time of Rev. Ois' pastorate there. They were also married there March 14, 1965.

Rev. & Mrs. Jameson Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Jameson Hall of Community Methodist Church was the scene of a reception Sunday afternoon, when approximately 200 joined in the celebration of the Golden Wedding anniversary of the Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Jameson well known minister and his wife, now residing in Wabasso, Fla.

In the receiving line were Rev. and Mrs. Jameson and their three daughters, Mrs. Walter Cross of Frostproof, Mrs. Leonard Payne of Homestead and Mrs. Robert Watts of McAllisterville, Pennsylvania. A son, Rev. John Edmund "Bo" Jameson, of Alhambra, Pa., was unable to attend. Mrs. Paul Cross, granddaughter-in-law, kept the guest book.

Palms were used in decorating the hall. A picture idea was carried out with gold and white net draped to form the background, where two chairs were placed for the couple. Tall gold butane candles were placed on the side and between the chairs.

The table was lovely with a white embroidered swiss organically cloth over green satin. A gorgeous arrangement of gold candleabra, yellow roses and white orchids formed the centerpiece. The colonnaded cake was decorated with flowers and a gold cymbidium orchid. Gold coffee and tea service and candleabra completed the decor. Pouring were Mrs. Ralph Kidder, Mrs. Van Horn, Mrs. W. E. Carter, Mrs. Thelma Weaver, Mrs. Clara Bedsole, Mrs. James Wierengo and Mrs. Robert Creech. Serving cake were Mrs. R. S. Burr, Mrs. R. V. Allison, Mrs. Frank Morris, Mrs. Bettie Harris, Mrs. Ruby Schoenfeld, Mrs. Marie Schenfeld, Miss Margaret West, assisted by Mrs. Harold Royals, was overall chairman for the event.

Mrs. Jameson wore a lovely orchid corsage and everyone assisting with the reception were pinned with two tiny wedding bells tied with ribbon.

Rev. and Mrs. Jameson were married May 16, 1917 in Sebastian, Fla. They have three daughters and one son and 16 grandchildren.

Rev. Jameson pastored churches in the early days in Falmouth, Ft. Myers and Lawley, Fla. He came to Belle Glade in 1933 with his family as pastor of Community Methodist Church. Jameson Hall which was named in his honor, was formerly the church, which he helped along with others to build and furnish, with donations of labor and money.

Mrs. Jameson worked along faithfully with the women of the church in helping to pay off the debt. The group served dinners and luncheons for many years, the proceeds going to the building fund.

The church was completed and dedicated, free of debt in April of 1937. Other people of many denominations made the Methodist church their home church. He was pastor here for 13½ years until May 1947, when he took over the pastorage at the Allapattah Methodist Church in Miami.

Later he was pastor in Stuart, after which he retired. After retiring he came back to serve Community Methodist Church at Lake Harbor for five years. He and his wife now live in his home town of Wabasso.

Many out of town guests and old timers were present to congratulate the well loved couple. In addition to his daughters living in Florida and their families, a grandson, Rev. Walter Cross, student of Emory University, Atlanta flew here

CARMEN DE LA MATA

Desearnos felicitar a la linda Carmen, hija de Luz y Manuel de la Mata, por su graduación este año 1967, de la Belle Glade High School.

Piensa continuar sus estudios en Palm Beach Junior College.

REBA TARAFÁ Y CAROL

Joven graduada del Rosarion Academy, en West Palm Beach, es hija Gully Carol y el Ingeniero Jorge Tarafa. Muchas felicidades a la linda Reba.

Después de hacer presentación de todos los graduados a las doce de la noche tuvo lugar la coronación de la Reina y el Rey del Prom. Resultó reina la Sra. Marilyn Pozo; y rey Jimmy Cariso, quienes fueron coronados por los presidentes del Junior Class: Mary Arvieu y Robert Gargas.

Un hecho que enorgullece a todos los teen-agers en general y a Cardinal Newman en particular "según relato de los alumnos" es que presente se hallaban en Palm Beach dos personalidades conocidas por el director del Museo. Estos visitantes no tenían muy buen concepto de nuestra juventud, y el director tuvo la acertada idea de hacerles una demostración práctica de lo que era la juventud, y los invito a nuestra Prom. Todo resultó tan bonito y majestuoso, además de que el lugar ayudaba al lucimiento del Prom, que estos señores escribieron una carta al director del Flagler Museum celebrando nuestro baile, y convenciendos que la juventud de America servia para mucho".

Independencia Americana

Si grandes fueron los españoles en el Siglo XVI conquistando un mundo material, colonos fueron sus descendientes hispano-americanos conquistando en el siglo XIX la libertad de aquel mundo. España defendido con perseverancia las posesiones de America.

La independencia americana se inicio en las colonias inglesas que contaban con la justicia de su causa y tuvieron además la fuerza que le prestaron Francia y España. Estas potencias, enemigas entonces de Gran Bretaña, apoyaron con sus tropas el movimiento separatista de la America Inglesa.

Aun sin este apoyo, la America Britanica hubiera sabido ganar su independencia, pero la guerra hubiera sido mas larga.

EN EL NORTE

En las antiguas colonias inglesas gozaban de libertad los colonos europeos, pero los indios eran explotados. Sin embargo, no fueron los indios los sublevados, sino los colonos descendientes de ingleses, escoceses e irlandeses.

El motivo de la rebelion fue el descontento que produjo en las colonias la ley del papel sellado y otros tributos insensatos. El que produjo mas resistencia fue el del té. Los americanos sostenian que no podia imponerles contribucion alguna por no estar ellos representados en el Parlamento, y en consecuencia acordaron resistir.

En Boston, cuna de la independencia, botaron al agua los cargamentos de té llegados de Inglaterra, reduciendo los colonos su inmortal "Declaración de Derechos" y organizaron un pequeño ejercito improvisado para sostener la causa americana. El 19 de Abril 1775 fueron derrotados los ingleses por los americanos en la batalla de Lexington. Los americanos, reunidos en Filadelfia en un congreso llamado Contin ental, decretaron la formacion de un ejercito de 20,000 soldados y nombró a Jorge Washington general en jefe. A los dos dias fueron vencedores en la batalla de Bunker Hill.

Con fecha 7 de Julio 1776 el Congreso declaro la separacion de las colonias y su entera independencia. El 4 de julio, fiesta nacional de los Estados Unidos, se firmo la celebre "Declaración de Independencia".

Ya por entonces habia llegado a Francia el Marqués de Lafayette desearno de servir a la causa americana. Bajo las ordenes de Washington sobresalio el celebre Saint-Simon, filosofo frances, y el no menos celebre Koscisko, oficial polaco educado en la escuela de cadetes de Varsovia.

La causa de America tuvo su mayor apoyo con la llegada de 6,000 soldados franceses bajo el mando de Rochambeau. Y en la campaña emprendida contra los ingleses por los espafioles bajo Fernando Galvez, gobernador de Louisiana, que con refuerzos que recibio de Cuba, que fue mas tarde el iniciador de la revolucion de Venezuela.

Rochambeau juntamente con Washington obtuvo la capitacion el 19 de Octubre 1781, rindiendose en Yorktown el general Cornwallis con 8,000 soldados, 6 navios, 214 cañones y 22 banderas.

En America se erigieron estatuas a Lafayette. El gobierno español recompensó a Galvez con el nombramiento de Capitán general en Louisiana y la Florida, quedando estas colonias independientes de Cuba.

A Rochambeau no se le premio con titulos ni estatuas, pero tuvo mas alta gloria, después de haber luchado en America, sirvió en Europa en la inmortal Revolution francesa.

Jorge Washington al termino de la guerra, fue elegido presidente por unanimidad de los Estados Unidos de la America del Norte en 1787.

Proximamente: Independencia de Haiti, Santo Domingo, Venezuela, Colombia, Argentina, Chile, Peru, Mexico, Centro America, Brasil.

Baptist Center Conducts Program For Children

By Kathleen Livingston, Church and Society Editor

Showing how it works.

Mrs. Harry Davis plans the arts and crafts. Here she is demonstrating the end product of this class of primary age children. The children were given outlines of birds which they had to color and put together to form a type of collage.

The Baptist Center, located just outside the entrance to Osceola Center, attempts to teach people about God seven days a week.

The centers aim and works, Jim Holcombe, minister at the center said, attempts to bring God to the people rather than ask the people to come to God.

The Center does not deal with the main stream of middle class America but attempts to minister to a select group, agriculture workers. In Belle Glade the Center's programs are located where the people live and are geared to this specialized community.

Holcombe said: "These people can not be reached by the average church program. It hasn't reached them. We have attempted to change the identity of the former Northside Baptist Chapel, now called the Baptist Center.

"It has developed into a program in which we attempt to do everything to meet, not wants, but needs. First we must find the people.

"We find there is a need for the children to be occupied in something constructive. We have clubs for all ages.

"In our work we also meet emergencies needs such as food, clothes, and transportation to clinics.

"As a church oriented program we did not adequately minister to the people. The First Baptist Church of Belle Glade requested the Home Mission Board to send somebody to direct a new approach to the program."

ministry centers on children

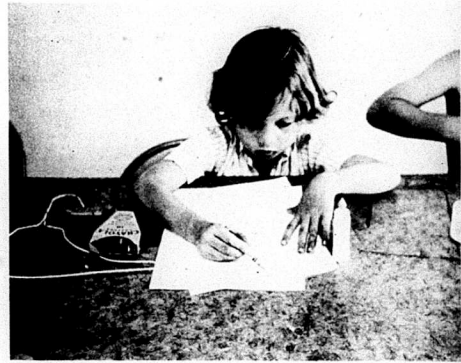

This new approach centers on children, Holcombe said: "It is hard to find a time that we could have a group of adults together. This summer we will reach for more adults.

"Working as agriculture laborers the adults are busy all day and sometimes into the night. We are serving the adults by serving the children, but we hope to contact the adults more directly during the summer.

"We believe the people can be taught the Bible on Monday, as well as on Sunday. There is an old theory that is prevalent among Christians, the people learn about God on Sunday. We seek to teach God and put truth into action every day of the week. Just as each person is holy, so is each day.

The center is striving for more community involvement, not just Baptist involvement. All of the volunteers, at present, are from the Baptist church, but Holcombe hopes that others will work with the program.

The philosophy here, Holcombe said, is based on a similar program in operation in Perrine. The Baptist have more than 200 centers, he said, but Belle Glade and Perrine are the only two ministering to migrant and agricultural laborers. This philosophy has its core in the dignity of the individual while helping people to help themselves.

Absorbed in her work, this primary age student doesn't even pay attention to the camera. She is coloring a bird that will be cut out and assembled, complete with moving wings.

Volunteers Work

A large number of volunteer workers have given of their time and efforts to help make the center's program interesting to all age groups.

Mrs. S. M. McAllister, is enjoying her work with the primary Boys and Girls Club. Mrs. Rita Cunningham, Mrs. Jackie Cunningham, Mrs. Barbara Markham and Mrs. Rita Pittman have the clothing for the needy and work on this two days a week. Mrs. Barney Collier is always on hand mostly helping with the pre-schoolers or any other group.

Mrs. Russell Tenet works with the pre-school group as well as Mrs. Edwin Rice, who helps when she can.

Mrs. Bates is in charge of the Girls Club on Tuesday, and Mrs. Gladys Edwards has the boys class on Wednesday.

Mrs. Luther Jones, plays the piano for different groups. Mrs. Harry Davis is instructor in arts and crafts. Mrs. Merle Ward, Miss Arlene Lloyd and Teresa Neely and quite a few teenagers help with the younger groups. When some of the volunteers leave for the summer or go on vacations others take their place.

Mrs. Schlechter, adult Sunday School teacher, is also chairman of the Mission Committee.

Mrs. Barney Collier presides in the pre-school session here. She is helping the children select cut outs with which to make family pictures.

Mrs. Edwin Rice substitutes when regular volunteer teachers are not able to attend. Here she is helping pre-schoolers put together a family. With cutouts of daddies, mommies and children, the pre-schoolers make a picture of their family in this afternoon session.

Summer Schedule Set

The summer schedule for June 4-August 13 has been set up at the Baptist Center. The schedule may be altered a little but this is the activities that are planned. Rev. and Mrs. Holcombe will also be on hand to help in any way possible.

The center seems to be a number one attraction for the children all look forward to the activities. The primary girls and boys club is always well attended. Singing, Bible Study, Bible stories and arts and crafts is the schedule. The children are like eager beavers as they gather around the table, willing to listen to learn and to make the various articles.
